About This Game

Tired of being beaten up by heroes day after day. Monsters decide to fight for their freedom!

Monster X Monster is a Rogue-like RPG Card game.
You team up 4 monsters to escape the castle defeating all the heroes.

The game is mainly inspired by Darkest Dungeon and Slay the spire.
And Core Fusion system is a idea pop up in my head many years ago, now I finally get chance to make it into a game.

It could use a bit more english and explanation TBH.

I'm of course comparing this to Darkest dungeon and also Deep Sky Derelicts (can't compare it to "Slay the spire" as I never played it) and they both had a bit of terminology going that didn't make much sense but you got the info needed quite easily.

This game relies on your knowledge of how Darkest dungeon handled the term "weakened" to get what effect it has in this game as it's quite bad at explaining a lot of things.

I don't get what "Taunt" does in this game, the description is:

"Gain 8 blocks

Gain 3 forward"

I couldn't play it even if I tried with the fourth bloke in the queue, which could make sense as he'd be tanking at the front, what use it'd have on anyone else outside of "rear bloke" I don't get as the ones in front won't even let you try to use the card...

Final verdict after playing for "no time at all", only beating one of the heroes is:

If you're going to play it as an english speaker/reader, wait and see how things go, it is in my opinion not worth buying but it's not really worth refunding if you already bought it either...
